

This should *NOT* be implemented unless those of us who bought HDTV systems over the past few years are grandfathered in to HDTV access. Our family invested alot of money to purchase a system and we would have to buy a completely new tv system if this passes. Most companies said they will NOT provide a hardware retrofit to enable older HDTV's to process the DVI/HDCP data stream.

This is NOT in the interest of the majority of HDTV owners.